FURTHER DIRECTIONS

1. Vide a ruling delivered on 17/12/2025, the respondent was ordered to avail the documents he used to file the succession cause herein.
2. As stated in the said ruling, the respondent hold a grant ad colligenda bona which was erroneously confirmed.

3. The respondent has not availed any documents to show that he obtained a full grant.
4. It is thus my finding that the grant herein was obtained unprocedurally. The respondent through mischief misled the court to issue a full grant and then proceeded to have it confirmed.
5. I find good grounds to annul the grant herein.
6. Therefore, the following orders do issue:
  - a. The certificate of confirmation of grant issued herein and all subsequent rectified certificates of grant are hereby annulled.
  - b. The transfer/transmission of the immovable property forming the estate herein to the heirs is hereby revoked and the property herein is to revert to the name of the deceased.
  - c. The respondent shall give an account of all the immovable property of the deceased within 30 days from the date of this ruling.
  - d. Any of the beneficiaries of the deceased are at liberty to apply for a proper grant of letters of administration.

e. A date for compliance shall be given after delivery of this ruling.
